Inside the National Ringette League

The National Ringette League (NRL) was founded in 2002 and began play in 2003-2004. The league was started to create a truly national landscape to promote the sport of Ringette and allow for the best players in the country to compete against each other. The league is comprised of 14 teams, broken down into East and West Conferences. Over 300 of Canada's elite female athletes play in this league, including all of the members of Team Canada, the Silver Medalists at the World Championships in 2014. The age of the players in the league ranges from 18 to 34.

The objectives of the NRL are to move Ringette into the mainstream of Canadian sports, encourage greater public awareness of Ringette, create more and better competitive opportunities for athletes, and achieve positive financial results at both a league and team level. The NRL functions as a committee under Ringette Canada, the national governing body of Ringette in Canada.

Teams participating the 2013-2014 NRL season include: Western Conference – Calgary RATH and Edmonton WAM! and Lower Mainland Thunder. Eastern Conference – Red Division: Cambridge Turbos, Gatineau Fusion, Gloucester Devils, Ottawa Ice, Richmond Hill Lightning and Waterloo Wildfire; White Division: Atlantic Attack, Lac St Louis Adrenaline, Le Royal de Bourassa, Montreal Mission and Rive Sud Revolution.

Have a Practice Run by NRL/National Team Players

Planning practices can be difficult. Trying to come up with new drills or new techniques to teach a concept takes a lot of work. This season, the Ottawa Ice NRL team is offering a chance for your athletes to work with some of the best players and instructors in the city! All you have to do is sign your team up, and 1-3 players (depending on what you register for) will come out to your team's practice and run your ice session. If there are concepts you want to work on, or drills you want to do, let us know in advance and we can come up with an ice plan that will do exactly what you are looking for!

The Ottawa Ice is filled with players who have over 20 years of Ringette experience including playing, coaching, instructing at Ringette camps and running power skating sessions. Not only did our team find success as a whole by winning the Canadian Ringette Championships last year, we also have players who have played at the highest level, representing Canada at multiple World Championships since 2004.

Help our team get back to the National Championships this year to defend our title by allowing us to pass on our Ringette knowledge and experience to your athletes as well as build for a better future in Ringette.
